Investigation management

Create the future of policing. Digitize police process and structure data to improve collaboration and accelerate case resolution.

Efficient investigations

In today's investigations, more and more data needs to be analyzed and structured, in order to obtain actionable information. In addition, inter-agency collaboration requires better communication, both internally and with partner agencies.

Police officers need tools to help them manage the data and processes involved in their activities, from the simplest investigation to the most complex.

State-of-the-art investigation and case management system

Multi-languages

On-premises or cloud-based

Centralized

Get all investigative needs within a single, integrated and shared system for a better collaboration and effectiveness

Eviden is integrating Kaseware Investigation Management System, a comprehensive platform gathering critical investigative data including evidence and documents. This centralized hub facilitates information and intelligence sharing both within and beyond the organization.

The system features robust analytical tools creating reports and intuitive graphs to enhance the comprehension of complex scenarios and highlight connections between data points.

Moreover, field investigators can conveniently access and enrich the database via a mobile application.

We adapt the system to the customer's operational process. We work hand in hand at every stage, including design, configuration, implementation and data migration, to meet specific agency requirements and local legal standards (e.g. GDPR).

We support our customers with specialized training, support 24/7 in multiple languages and long-term maintenance.
