

About the Siemens Global Alliance

Siemens and Eviden established a Strategic Global Alliance in 2011, marking the beginning of a successful collaboration aimed at driving innovation and delivering value across various sectors. The Alliance saw a significant milestone with an Agreement Extension in 2020, underscoring the commitment of both entities to further mutual growth. Additionally, since 2020, Eviden has expanded its cooperation footprint through a Global Partnership with the industry-leading low-code application development platform Mendix™.
